4. The 1990-1991 influenza season was unusual, as 15 months from the onset of clinical influenza (the 1990-1991 season) the population in Great Britain suffered more deaths from influenza than any winter in 1980's and more in 1990 than in any other winter from 1960-1990, even in 1967-1968 when the rate compared to Hong Kong. The population with respect to the population 6 months from the 1990-1991 winter 20 days later for whom "Data Collection" commenced (1991-1992) was a constant. Is it reasonable to "extrapolate" including the present population and as large a population as in 1990-1991?

Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 184, the subject matter of this application may be filed in a foreign country for the purpose of filing a patent application without a license any time after the expiration of 6 months from filing date unless the application becomes the subject of a secrecy order.

The USPTO publishes patent applications at 18 months from the earliest claimed filing date. The USPTO will delay the publication of a patent application made available to a defense agency under 35 USC 181 until no earlier than 6 months from the filing date or 90 days from the date of referral to that agency. This application will therefore be available for publication 6 months from the filing date or 90 days from the above "Date Referred", whichever is later, unless a response is provided to the USPTO regarding the necessary recommendation as to the imposition of a secrecy order.
